To whom it may concern,

I am writing to confirm that since 2013 our company, Kobelco Construction Machinery Australia Pty Ltd has engaged in an international initiative with our head office in Japan to sponsor and recruit Japanese nationals to Australia so that they can gain valuable experience for the international development of the company.

As part of the criteria for the 457 Visa, all applicants must meet the English language requirements to pass the IELTS exam in order for the visa to be granted.

The course at Turner English has successfully prepared 2 applicants for the exam and both have been successful in achieving the required band score and hence their visa application has been granted.

Despite both applicants sitting the exam a number of times before undertaking training with Turner English, both were unable to successfully achieve the required scores.

I therefore recommend any employer to seek assistance and training at Turner English if they require staff members to be eligible for the 457 visa application and hence, remain in employment in the Australian context.

Yours Faithfully,

Takahiro Yamamoto
